

Girls Night Golf Invitational

Towards the end of 2011 at the Institute of Golf we launched our first ever girls golfing program. We are looking forward to further developing our current girls golfers in their second block of training while also recruiting a new beginners group.

What better way to kick off the 2012 girls night golf season than to have a fun ambrose style tournament that you can invite other friends to so they too can have the chance to get into golf. Each girl who participated in the first Girls Night Golf season is encouraged to invite 3 friends with them to make up a team of 4 players.

Tournament details are as follows:

- Thursday 27th January
- Tee off at 6pm (approximate finish time of 8.30pm)
- From 5-5.30pm we will run a clinic for those that need a quick tune up or a full swing overhaul.
- The event will be a 5 hole Ambrose format tournament (choose the best shot out of the group)
- Each team of 4 players need 1 set of clubs between them, so you can all share (if you do not have a set then this can be arranged for you)
- Due to popular demand on course beverages will also be provided.
- Cost is $150 per team of 4 players

This is a great opportunity to have a fun evening with girlfriends, introduce them to something new while also easing yourself back into golf ready for the 2012 program. And lets be honest, with a few drinks thrown in its bound to be a great evening out on the course.

Our pros will be on hand throughout the evening giving you advice and pointers on your technique and game play.

There will be spot prizes on the night as well!

If you are keen to enrol a team download the enrolment form from our Facebook page or contact Craig at craig@instituteofgolf.co.nz
